Women of all ages can enter
Sabarimala temple: Supreme Court

New Delhi, Sept. 28- In another landmark judgment, the Supreme Court this morning allowed women, irrespective of their age, to enter Kerala's Sabarimala temple.

A five-member Constitution Bench comprising Chief Justice of India Dipak Misra, Justices Rohinton Nariman, A.M. Khanwilkar, D.Y. Chandrachud, and Indu Malhotra, in a 4-1 majority, struck down the "Kerala Hindu Places of Public Worship (Authorisation of Entry) Rules, 1965" that banned women between the age of 10 and 50 from the temple. The practice had been in place for centuries.

Justice Malhotra, the lone woman on the Bench, had a dissenting view. Delivering the judgment, CJI Misra said Ayyappa devotees do not constitute a separate religious denomination. "Patriarchy in religion cannot be allowed to trump right to pray and practice religion. Any rule based on biological characteristics cannot pass muster of Constitutional test," CJI Misra said.

Norway shows the way

Going by the matter appearing in print of the land's dailies of all hues and also the regular telecast in various television channels during news time, one is prompted to infer that the nation's people at large never had it so good. The list of pro-people measures introduced by both the Central Government and the State Governments, including Karnataka's, such as Ayushman Bharat, Jan Dhan Yojna, cooking gas for free, loan waiver for the farming fraternity, Pradhan Mantri Aawaas Yojna and what have you, seems to be getting longer as days pass. Keeping aside media reports of crime in a dramatically rising graph across the country, Mysuru not excluded, one may permit oneself the freedom of turning attention to the plight of residents in urban spaces against the backdrop of steeply increasing difficulty in commuting by motorised transport between their residences and workplace as well as shopping complexes. Many roads in Mysuru, particularly in its central business district, have become out-of-bounds for motorists even as many established shops of the city on these roads have lost their business and are moving away to other less congested parts of the city.

Increasing the area of any city, such as Mysuru, to form layouts with residential and other sites for the benefit of the incoming settlers has resulted in exorbitant price of land and vertical growth of the city. One may extrapolate the ongoing rate of this change in the city's profile and experience the shock of how the scenario of reality and residents looks like ahead.

Even as city-based motorists area all at sea to find place for parking their personal vehicles and fuel price is racing to reach 100 rupees a litre, there are no signs of reduction in the scale of production of automobiles in the country or the number of car as well as two-wheeler showrooms in the cities. Not much is reported on what the authorities of city administration are doing in other countries facing the same situation. However, Oslo, the capital city of Norway, founded in 1040 AD and hosting about seven lakh residents, including 1,20,000 workforce, seems to show the way for other cities to emulate. The city's administration has eliminated 700 parking spots, turned streets (used earlier by motorists) into walkways, raised the levy for causing congestion, apart from eliminating most private cars. The only cars to be seen are taxis, vehicles for the handicapped and a few lost and confused motorists, according to a report in a section of the press.

Both the problem of congestion caused by the roads hosting motorised vehicles to the point of choking and the solution as done in Oslo merit a debate among both stakeholders and stockholders in Mysuru so that the city doesn't end up like the State capital before long.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Last year, I spent a day with some pensioners in a South Delhi slum to understand if and how they were benefiting from their brand new Jan Dhan accounts. It turned out that the majority of people I met that day were illiterate and could neither make head nor tail of their passbooks. The saddest tale I heard was of an old widow with her mentally challenged son, both beneficiaries of government schemes, who would stand outside their bank after getting their passbooks updated, waiting for a kind stranger to read and figure out whether their pensions had reached their accounts or not. These interactions convinced me that without well-thought-out strategies of financial inclusion, simply making zero balance accounts open to all — and mandatory to use to access social security benefits — would likely not have much impact. — Geetanjali Krishna in Business Standard.

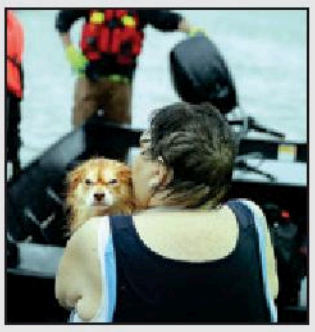
Woman arrested for caring hurricane-hit pets



North Carolina: A kind-hearted North-Carolina woman who took in dozens of abandoned pets as Hurricane Florence ravaged the US State was arrested and is now facing several misdemeanor charges for practicing veterinary medicine without a license.

The woman, Tammie Hedges, decided to turn a warehouse she had been remodelling into a shelter for pets. Pets came from the streets, where they were picked up by volunteers. All in all, she sheltered 27 pets – 17 cats and 10 dogs – during the storm, and also administered some medical treatments to ensure their well-being. But whereas most people considered her actions an act of kindness to animals, local authorities saw them as a violation of the law and charged her with several misdemeanors.

Artist uses optical illusions to tattoo skin

New Hampshire: Artist Jesse Rix of New Hampshire has been tattooing since but his geometric three-dimensional optical illusion tattoos are some of his works so trippy that you could swear you're looking at a fantastic world underneath a person's skin.

Rix uses geometrical shapes like hexagons and cubes to "remove" pieces of skin from his subjects and reveal the colorful world beneath.

However, his art and skills are constantly evolving, as shown in some of his latest works, which feature windows inked on to his subjects through which you can see the universe beneath their skin.

The New Hampshire-based artist is obviously a master of the trompe-l'œil technique, and some of his tattoos are so insanely realistic they can be kind of creepy to look at.

Vid. Pattabhiram Pandit to perform in city tomorrow

Devagitam Charitable Trust has organised its Seventh Annual Day function on Sept.29 at Veene Seshanna Bhavana in Kuvempunagar with a vocal concert by Vidwan T. S. Pattabhiram Pandit at 6 pm. He will be accompanied by Vidwan T.K.V. Ramanujacharyalu on the violin and Vid. K. U. Jayachandra Rao on the mridanga.

Profile: Vid.Pattabhirama Pandit hails from a family of musicians. His mother initiated him into the field of music at the age of three. VOICE OF THE READER

Dasara works or Devil's works?

Sir,

Apropos 'Hotch-potch patch work to fill potholes' (SOM dated Sept. 18), there is a saying in Urdu 'Jaldi ka kaam, Shaitan ka kaam' — roughly translated, it means 'Work done in a haste, is Devil's work'. Dasara works are done in the last hour year after year and crores are spent, as you rightly say to do some hotch-potch work.

Our monstrous roads not only kill but maim any number of unfortunate people almost everyday. When do we get the kind of roads that we see in the United States of America, Europe or for that matter the Gulf countries? When does this exercise of filling potholes and the same story every year end?

Dasara works is also a good chance for corrupt officials and 'accommodative' contractors, to make some quick moolah. Rarely, if at all, the authorities take pride in doing a good job. They don't realise that they're hurting their motherland by executing sub-standard works and they don't realise that they will have their nemesis for being greedy and corrupt.

When I was working in the Gulf, the staff in a bank used to wear a badge with these words: 'Do it right, the first time'. We cannot over-emphasise how much important and relevant is this dictum in Indian context !

Mandya DC bans explosives for stone quarrying 20 kms around KRS Dam

N. Manjushree, Mandya DC

Mandya, Sept. 28 (Nagaiah)- Mandya Deputy Commissioner (DC) N. Manjushree has banned the use of explosives in mining and stone quarrying activities in 20 kilometres radius around the Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam.

The ban has been imposed in view of Karnataka State Natural Disasters Monitoring Committee (KSNDMC) recommending the Mandya District Administration to check damages and fractures in the Dam structures in the wake of high-intensity blasts in the mining areas around the Dam.

In a letter dated Sept. 27 addressed to Principal Secretary, Water Resources Department, Manjushree has said that high-intensity blasts in the mining areas are resulting in houses and buildings in the vicinity developing cracks apart from causing air pollution.

"The report submitted by KSNDMC indicates imminent threat to the KRS Dam due to high-intensity quarry blasts and the resultant ground vibrations. Following the examination of the report and after ascertaining facts, blasting activities around 20 kilometres of the Dam has been banned in the interest of public safety," the letter stated.

It may be recalled here that the KSNMDC Director G.S. Srinivasa Reddy had submitted a report on Sept. 25 where he had recommended the Mandya District Administration to take precautionary measures to control quarrying and mining activities within 15 to 20 kilometres of the KRS Dam and ensure the safety of the Dam that is the lifeline of the region, Bengaluru and Tamil Nadu.

"Quarrying activity using controlled explosives will not create much damage and air pollution in the region. But uncontrolled explosives create lots of ground vibration, air pollution and further may also induce cracks in houses made of local stone and other material," the KSNMDC Director observed. Star of Mysore had published a detailed report yesterday under the title "Disaster Monitoring Centre calls for curb on stone quarrying around KRS Dam". There is rampant stone quarrying at Chinakurali, Baby Betta Kavalu, Amrutha Mahal Kaval, Anaganahalli, Kannambadi, Honaganahalli, Bastipura, Beechanakuppe, Avverahalli and Bannangadi.

Women's organisations take out 'Save Democracy' jatha in city

Mysuru, Sept. 28 (MTY&DM)- Activists of various women's organisations took out a jatha in city yesterday to demand saving of democracy and maintenance of harmony in the society.

The jatha titled 'Shantiyedege Namma Nadige' began from North Gate of the Palace and culminated at the Town Hall.

Addressing the protestors at Town Hall, noted writer Devanur Mahadeva said that women coming together from different parts of the country to 'Save Democracy' was a good sign.

Claiming that the Constitution now was under threat, Mahadeva said tampering of the Constitution had resulted in disharmony across the country and it was important that women's organisations from across the country arrived in the city for taking part in the jatha that aimed at sending out a message to the Government.

Pointing out that Kannadigas should go to other States for creating awareness on threat to the Constitution, he complimented the women's organisations for organising the rally.

Earlier, members of women's organisations of Kerala led by social activists Shabnam Hashmi were received by local women's organisations.

Members of women's organisations seen beating the drums during the 'Save Democracy' jatha in city yesterday to draw the attention of the government.

Farmer leader Hoskote Basavaraj, ODP's Sunitha, Prof. Preeti, Abhiruchi Ganesh and others were present.

Govt. to credit farm loan waiver money at Banks from Nov.1

Mandya, Sept.28- Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) has said that the Government will start crediting farm loan waiver money at Banks from Nov.1.

Kumaraswamy

Speaking to press persons after presiding over a KDP meeting at ZP hall here recently, Kumaraswamy said that money will be credited at Banks in respect of farm loans extended by public sector Banks.

Pointing out that he has asked Bank officials not to issue any notices to defaulting farmers, the CM warned of criminal action against such Bank officials if they went ahead with issuing notice despite his instruction.

Referring to reservation in promotion for SC/STs, he said that the Government would study the Supreme Court's ruling on the issue on Wednesday and hold discussions with the Advocate General on the next move. "The Government will take an appropriate decision after consulting all stake holders", HDK said.

Human skeleton found near Jodupala

Suspected to be of a girl, who had gone missing during landslides in Kodagu

Madikeri, Sept. 28 (PS&KS) - A skeleton has been found near Jodupala, which was devastated following floods and landslides in Kodagu last month.

The skeleton is suspected to be that of one Manjula (15), who had gone missing during the devastation of the place, but doctors and Police are yet to confirm the same.

As only the skeleton was found, it has become difficult for the parents of Manjula to confirm. The parents and relatives of Manjula had launched a search in Jodupala limits since 41 days and on Thursday at about 11 am, they found a skeleton about one kilometre away from the house where Manjula resided.

Madikeri Rural Police, who rushed to the spot, inspected the place and summoned a doctor from the District Hospital. The doctor, who examined the skeleton, confirmed that the skeleton was that of a human being and said that until further examination of the skeleton, it cannot be confirmed that the skeleton is that of Manjula.

It may be recalled that Manjula, daughter of Somaiah and a resident of Bettathur, was staying at the house of a relative Basappa in Jodupala as Manjula was studying in SSLC at a school in Madenadu.

On Aug. 16 at about 8 am, landslides took place due to heavy rains and floods which damaged the house of Basappa and even the place was flooded with rain water. As a result Basappa, Gowramma, Monisha and Manjula were swept away.

After the rain stopped, the search team consisting of the Army, Para Military, CRPF and Police personnel launched a search for the missing persons using drone cameras and found three bodies except that of Manjula. After identification of the three bodies, the last rites were performed.

Now, it is yet to be ascertained whether the skeleton found at Jodupala is that of Manjula or not.

Mysuru, Sept. 28 (AG&BCT)- During the campaign for the May 2014 Lok Sabha polls, BJP's Prime Ministerial candidate Narendra Modi (now Prime Minister) had promised to make Mysuru a global tourist destination and said, "Mysuru will draw tourists like Paris."

It is September 2018 now and though the promise of drawing tourists to Mysuru like Paris remains a distant dream, Mysuru being a global tourist destination has reached stakeholders in Paris, thanks to a team of officials from Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation (KSTDC), Jungle Lodges and Resorts (JLR) and Karnataka Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh who are showcasing Mysuru at IFTM - International French Travel Market – Paris.

Sharing his experiences at IFTM, Mahesh told Star of Mysore that it was a global event where key tourism players are involved. "Many representatives from developed countries are showcasing the tourism potential of their respective lands. IFTM Top Resa is the leading showcase for the entire tourism industry and a multi-sector event for both international and French markets, with leisure, business, MICE and group tourism all together under one roof. "After the event concludes on Sept. 28, we will take part in rallies and road shows at London and Glasgow. There too, Dasara will be publicised," Mahesh said.

At the event, delegates are given an opportunity to meet the targeted audience, boost revenue and develop new business, enhance brand image, keep abreast of market developments and trends and schedule meetings with decision-makers.

More than 300 business-travel buyers from all over France and across the world are attending the event.

India to host 2019 'World Tourism Day' celebrations

K.J. Alphons

New Delhi, Sept. 28- India has been chosen to host World Tourism Day celebrations for the World Tourism Organisation of the United Nations (UNWTO), in 2019, said Tourism Minister K.J. Alphons.

This was announced at a function organised to present National Tourism Awards 2016-17 on World Tourism Day yesterday. While Andhra Pradesh bagged the first prize for promoting "Andhra Pradesh Tourism" as a global brand, Kerala came second for comprehensive development of tourism. Rajasthan and Goa shared the third spot.

The Taj Gateway Hotel in Chikkamagalur, Karnataka, won the best hotel award under the four-star hotel category. The Taj Gateway, which was opened in 1999, offers serenity, privacy and exquisitely restored colonial architecture.

A total of 77 awards were presented to the tourism industry stakeholders, State governments, Central agencies and individuals by the Union Tourism Minister.

Addressing the event, Alphons noted that India has made "great strides" in the field of tourism during the last four years of Modi government, saying that the sector has become "a major source" of employment and foreign exchange.

"The tourism sector needs to improve its hospitality services since it is the hospitality offered which is the distinguishing feature of India and gives it an edge over other countries," the Minister said.

Medical shops closed

To Secure Livelihood of your Retailers
Mysore District Chemists & Druggists Association (R.)
Affiliated to the Karnataka Chemists & Druggists Association (R.)

Chemists take out a protest rally in city this morning. Picture right shows people buying medicines from Jan Aushadh Centre and a closed medical shop.

Mysuru, Sept. 28 (RK&KS)- Most of the chemist shops in Mysuru were shut this morning following the nationwide bandh called by All India Organisation of Chemists and Druggists Association and the Karnataka Chemists and Druggists' Association. The pharmacy bandh was called opposing the alleged loopholes in the draft regulations on e-pharmacies.

Across the State, over 20,000 chemists who are members of the Association (950 in Mysuru district and 600 in city) took part in the bandh by closing their shops. Stating that with the lack of stringent regulations, the online sale of drugs may lead to a rampant sale of restricted drugs. Schedule H, H1, X Narcotic drugs (like antidepressants) might get sold without verification in online portals, the striking chemists said.

However, the bandh has not been supported by all chemists. Some of the unions of the druggists functioned as usual. Government pharmacies like Jan Aushadh units and pharmacies attached to hospitals were open without interruption in services.

As part of the protest, medical shop owners under the banner of Mysuru District Chemists and Druggists Association (MDCDA) took out a protest march in city. Protesters, who assembled near Mahatma Gandhi bust in front of City Law Courts Complex, took out a protest march carrying placards to the DC office, where they submitted a memorandum.

The protest was led by MDCDA President S. Kumaraswamy, General Secretary Amanulla Khan, Treasurer M. Raju, members Chandragupta Jain, Narendra Babu, Harish and others.

Dispensation of medicines only under the supervision of pharmacists, stern measures to prevent narcotic and psychotropic medicines falling into the hands of young people and ensuring availability of life-saving drugs in rural areas are some of the demands.

Amanulla Khan, speaking to Star of Mysore, e-pharmacies will affect both the chemist and the patient.

He claimed that e-pharmacies will lead to scarcity of medicines, irrational competition, and deprive chemists of their livelihood.

Representatives of the association said that the move to open up the pharmaceutical sector for foreign majors would adversely affect the prospects of the domestic industry.

While 600 medical shops in city downed the shutters today, pharmacies attached to all hospitals were dispensing medicines. Patients were also seen buying medicines at Jan Aushadh, Med Plus outlets and Janata Bazaar medical stores in city, which functioned as usual.

Women of all ages can enter Sabarimala temple: Supreme Court

The Travancore Devaswom Board (TDB) had argued that they should be allowed to make the rules for the Sabarimala temple as they form a denomination.

Justice Chandrachud said, "Religion cannot be cover to deny women right to worship. To treat women as children of lesser God is to blink at Constitutional morality. Physiological features cannot be a ground for denial of right."

Justice Malhotra said, "What constitutes essential religious practice is for the religious community to decide not the court. Notions of rationality cannot be brought into matters of religions." She went on to say, "Balance needs to be struck between religious beliefs on one hand and cherished principles of non-discrimination and equality laid down by Constitution on the other."

Justice Malhotra further stated that the present judgment won't be limited to Sabarimala, it will have wide ramifications and that issues of deep religious sentiments shouldn't be ordinarily interfered into.

A. Padmakumar, president of TDB said they will file a review petition after securing support from other religious heads.

The judgment came over a clutch of petitions challenging the ban, which was upheld by the Kerala HC. The High Court had ruled that only the "Tantri (priest)" was empowered to decide on traditions. The petitioners, including Indian Young Lawyers Association and Happy to Bleed, argued that the tradition is discriminatory in nature and stigmatised women and women should be allowed to pray at the place of their choice.

Two-day Kite Festival from tomorrow

Professional kite flyers from Ahmedabad, Surat, Hyderabad, Mumbai, Mangaluru to participate

Mysuru, Sept.28 (MTY&SR): A two-day kite festival organised as part of Dasara festivities will be inaugurated by Mysuru District Minister G.T. Devegowda on Sept. 29 (tomorrow) at 4.00 pm at Lalitha Mahal Helipad Grounds. On Sept. 30, the festival will be held from 9 am till 8 pm.

Speaking to reporters at his office this morning, Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar said that over 36 professional kite flyers from Ahmedabad, Surat, Hyderabad, Mumbai, Mangaluru Kite Clubs would take part in this pre-Dasara event. They will fly kites of various colours and hues to attract visitors.

The Tourism Department has arranged Rock Band entertainment and food trucks at the venue for music and food. These kite flyers have earned the reputation for kite flying at national and international levels. Dasara Executive Committee is conducting the festival as part of Dasara and not for any competition, he said.

The DC said Mangaluru Kite Flying Club members will fly kites of various varieties that would reflect the local culture, tradition and customs. They will fly kites on the themes of Kathakkali, Bharatanatyam, Yakshagana and others.

The other major attraction of this festival is a 36-ft long and 10-ft wide kite that has already found a place in Limca Book of World Records. Mangaluru Kite Flying Club members are also flying kites attached with LED bulbs.

Nylon and Manja banned

The DC said that the District Administration has banned the use of nylon thread and glass-coated Manja (an abrasive string used for kites. It is gummed, coloured and coated with powdered glass) while flying kites as it would injure birds and vehicle riders. The kite fliers are using environment friendly kites, he added.

A workshop has also been organised for children on kite making on Sept. 30 from 9 am at the same venue. Deputy Director of Tourism H.P. Janardhan, Assistant Director of Information Department Raju, others were present.

In a letter addressed to the Deputy Commissioner, a copy of which is also sent to the District Minister G.T. Accusing the Deputy Director (DD) of Women and Child Welfare Department as being responsible for the cancellation of the sports meet, as she had cited poor response, the senior citizens alleged that the DD had failed to the hear their grievances even once after assuming office years ago.

Alleging that the DD spends over Rs. 1 lakh on inviting cine stars to the grand event, while at the same time cancelling the senior citizens sports citing poor response, the members claimed that the cancellation of the event had deprived them of a chance to recall their younger days.

Urging the government to entrust the responsibility of holding Seniors' Dasara Sports Meet to the Trust and the State Government Retired Employees Association, Saraswathipuram, the elders have demanded the government to keep out the Women and Child Welfare Department and Senior Citizens Empowerment Department from this year's Dasara events.

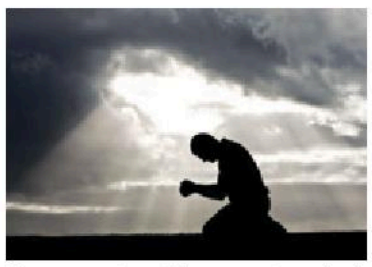
WORD OF THE DAY

Atone

Pronunciation: uh-TOHN



Meaning: To make amends; to provide or compensation for something bad; to make reparation or supply satisfaction.

Origin: Atone comes to us from the combination in Middle English of at and on, the latter of which is an old variant of one. Together they meant "in harmony." (In current English, we use "at one" with a similar suggestion of harmony in such phrases as "at one with nature.") When it first entered English, atone meant "to reconcile" and suggested the restoration of a peaceful and harmonious state between people or groups. These days the verb specifically implies addressing the damage (or disharmony) caused by one's own behaviour.

Example: James tried to atone for the mistakes of his youth by devoting his life to helping others.

THE ODD WORD

Mouse Potato

A person who spends large amounts of their leisure or working time on a computer.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A dish fit for the Gods

Meaning: An offering of high quality; It literally means what it says, that is, the food is so good that it is good enough to be served to God.

Origin: The phrase originates in the Shakespeare's play Julius Caesar in the year 1601. Brutus when killing Caesar, tells his men to be gentle, "Let's kill him boldly, but not wrathfully; Let's carve him as a dish fit for the Gods...". His speech contains that although they are killing Caesar, and that he would obviously bleed, the men should not tear him apart limb to limb. Brutus asked Caesar to be carved in a manner that he would be a dish fit for the Gods! This speech Brutus expresses the view that, although the conspirators are resolved to kill Caesar, they aren't mere butchers and should leave his body in a suitable state for the Gods to view.

Example: She is such a wonderful cook. The cakes that she bakes are dish fit for the Gods!
